Brando Lundberg & Meso Creso

Decorated lightposts that guide PEX Summer Festival goers toward the Meso Creso camp area. Transforming these ordinary, functional objects on PEX SF grounds contributes to the dissociative nature the PEX SF experience, encouraging people to loosen their grip on a subjective reality, embrace the unknown and unexpected, and encourage greater self-expression.

GMO DECONTAMINATION ZONE

Have you been eating GMOs? The answer is probably yes, since Genetically Engineered food is not labeled, yet it is found in nearly 90% of processed foods in this country. But fear not; Occupy Monsanto activists are standing by to decontaminate the minds and bodies of survivors of genetic contamination.

At the GMO Decontamination Zone, we will take you in as a survivor, tag you with a wristband, and serve you (21+) an organic alcoholic beverage from our glowing glasses. Our anonymous Occupy Monsanto bartenders wear biohazmat suits over an ultraviolet bar. Beverages will include organic infused vodka mixes and custom drink "the Dirty Bomb." Geiger counter will be on-premises to test for ambient radiation.

2012 PEX SUMMER FESTIVAL EFFIGY BURN

Directed by Tom Carr

SATURDAY, JUNE 30
9:30PM, LAKESIDE

"The only show every other show watches."

Now in its 4th year, the annual Saturday night effigy burn invites all Summer Festival participants to the lakeside tradition of celebration through art, dance and fire. Arrive early for best seating.

Kicking off this year's show will be Setu Tribe. Under the seasoned direction and choreography of Geri Vanore, Setu is an African dance-inspired ensemble performed by a cast of PEXie veterans. The show itself is a single story told through a collection of individual stories and reflections of significant and sometimes life-changing moments and memories from each dancer throughout their experience and participation in The Philadelphia Experiment.

Following Setu, is the Summer Festival Conclave. Under the direction of Laura Schetzle and assisted by Terry Fields, Summer Fest Effigy Conclave is open to all fire spinners at the festival (who attend the required safety meeting) and becomes a stunning collection of some of the best fire performers the east coast has to offer.

Concluding the Effigy Show is the spectacular burning of this year's Giant Bear in space – influenced sculpture: HM Astronautics' Project X by Monk E Burnswell and Hedy Sirico. Under the pyrotechnic and burn-art direction of Monk E Burnswell, well, let's just say, anything is possible. Thank you from the entire Effigy crew and...Enjoy your burn.)'(

NO MOOP FIRE BALLOONS

Pavilion Field presented by Digital Native

In the early evening, every PEXgoer who's interested in taking part will gather in the field near the pavilion, and together they'll create an ethereal display: fiery lights hovering in the sky as dusk gives way to evening. Sky lanterns create unfortunate MOOP but the Natives' solution leads to a unique presentation – fire balloons! We'll provide sky lanterns with thin tether lines, short enough to keep them manageable, and arrange a fire spotter and a pilot for each tethered sky lantern. We'll also provide a means for completely extinguishing and disposing of used lanterns. We'll open the event with a lesson on the proper deployment and disposal of tethered sky lanterns, both to teach participants fire safety and to involve them in the prevention of MOOP.
